STORY

"...My Child... Your flesh is a debt long overdue. I have given you all this gift of life and I shall so easily take it from you... Three days from now I will return to raze the Earth of all those who walk upon it. Only then will the debt be repaid. ...Three days..."

A young boy is suddenly haunted by apocalyptic nightmares. Although unsure of the sincerity of the message, it appears grave danger will befall the village in three days.

Desperate to try and save the people of the village, the young boy attempts to try and stop a God. Which path will you take to attempt to prevent the end of the world?
