A MESSAGE FROM MICHAELANGELO: HELP!!!

Calling all dudes and dudettes. If you want to be like Mike (that's moi), you've got to partake in an important, but dangerous, radical rescue mission. You see, I was out grabbing a slice of 'za when my friends were sucked into the old "April's in trouble, we better go save her" bit. Now Splinter, Raph, Don, Leo and April are all prisoners in a freaky fortress! So I'm the only one left who isn't becoming a wall flower in a mildew factory. But to make matters worse, Shredder has returned with a new look. Half man with a bad attitude, and half cyborg with the power to annihilate. Only the new and "improved" Shredder could be behind these heinous high jinks. Help me free the sewer crew from Cyber Shredder's twisted nightmare.

HOW TO LAUNCH A TURTLE RESCUE MISSION

Insert your game pak into the Game Boy® and turn on the power. After due credits roll, wait until the Title screen appears. On the Title screen, you'll see the choices NEW GAME and PASSWORD. Move the selection arrow to your choice by pressing the Control Pad up or down. Press the Start Button and away we go! NEW GAME plunges you straight into the ninja action from the beginning. PASSWORD lets you pick up from where you last nailed a boss enemy, saved an ally, found an ID card or picked up a key. Select PASSWORD then enter the sequence of numbers you were last given (don't forget to write it down) using the Control Pad and lock in your entry with the Start Button. If you goof up and enter the wrong number, you'll hear a warning beep. Try again. After entering the Password, you get two chances to continue with the same number of credits.

THE NAME OF THE GAME IS THINK FAST

To make it through Shredder's heinous hideout, you have to use strategy as well as ninja skill. You're up against the whole stinking army, and they don't get paid until they bring your shell in on a platter. There's a wild new challenge at every turn, but you're toast if the enemy gets in too many attacks. Your Life Gauge shows the strength you have left. You say goodbye to one life unit per hit. Lose it all and the game is over. You can choose to continue twice if Shredder still has your blood pumping. Just select Continue with the Start Button when the Game Over screen appears, and pick up in the arena you left off.

Five Rescue Missions

The strategy comes in when you must rescue your comrades in a certain order so that you can use each of their special new maneuvers to get past specific obstacles. You can play as Michaelangelo or any Turtle that has already been rescued. Change to another rescued Turtle by pressing the Start Button during game play. At the Turtle Select screen, choose the mutant of the hour with the Control Button, then the A Button to lock in your choice. The new character will have the same amount of life as the character going out. When you're fighting your way through the twisty turny Fortress, you can get your bearings at any time by pressing the Select Button to display the Fortress Map. The Map shows where you are and where your goals are, but you still have to figure out in what order to achieve them.

BE A CONTROL FREAK

NEW TURTLE TACTICS THAT'LL REALLY MOVE YOU

The extra pizza doesn't weigh him down, he can easily float through the air. While in mid-jump, press the A Button to 'copter. Use the Control Pad to choose direction. Hit the A Button to end the 'copter move.

Raphael's Squeeze Play (Sai Sword)

Raph's sound judgment has gotten the Green Team out of many tight spots. Now he can really squeeze through narrow spaces when he crawls into his shell for protection. Press the Control Pad down, then press the A Button to go into shell mode. Move the Control Pad left or right for direction. Go back to normal by pressing the A Button.

Leonardo's Blockbuster (Katana Blade)

His temper has really got him busting up the place. Leo can break through certain destructible concrete blocks and wooden crates.

THE FORTRESS. BE AFRAID. BE VERY AFRAID.

Cyber Shredder's Fortress holds hideous surprises at every turn. He created his hideout from an underground network of tunnels that used to be a coal mine. The tunnels are just as twisted as Cyber Shredder's twisted criminal mind! Start in the forest before you enter, then choose your route wisely among bat-infested coal shafts, abandoned factories, mining cars and limestone caves.
